Theatre West Virginia

Theatre West Virginia, who for forty-five years has produced the outdoor dramas Hatfields and McCoys and Honey in the Rock near Beckley, educated students at WVSD on March 27 with The Last Hanging in Pike County -- the latest educational performance to be produced by the performing art company.

The Last Hanging in Pike County by Janice Kennedy is an historical play about the events leading to the last public hanging in Pike County, Kentucky. During the 1800's, the most famous clan war was between the Hatfields of West Virginia and the McCoys of Kentucky. A permanent part of our national folklore, the cause of the feud is debatable. It may have begun with a dispute over the ownership of a hog or by the ill-fated love of Roseanne McCoy and Johnse Hatfield, but the feud came to an end on Feb. 18, 1890 when Ellison "Cotton Top" Mounts, a man of limited mental capacity, was publicly executed for the murder of Alifair McCoy.

Through an innovative partnership between staff at the School for the Deaf and the acting company, the performance was shadow interpreted by Mr. Adrian, Mr. Coleman, Mrs. Dodgins, Mrs. Heare, Mrs. Loar, Mrs. Page, and Mrs. Staley, giving full accessibility to our students.

Prior to the evening performance, the acting troupe provided afternoon drama workshops for our student body.

Deaf Awareness & Spirit Week

September 26-30, 2005

Big Apple Circus

by Jason Holliday

On September 28, 2005 for Deaf Awareness Week (DAW) the West Virginia School for the Deaf went on a field trip to the Big Apple Circus at Dulles Town Center. Jason Holliday, being the newest WVSD Yearbook student, was asked to write up a story on the visit. This was the first time Jason ever visited a circus.

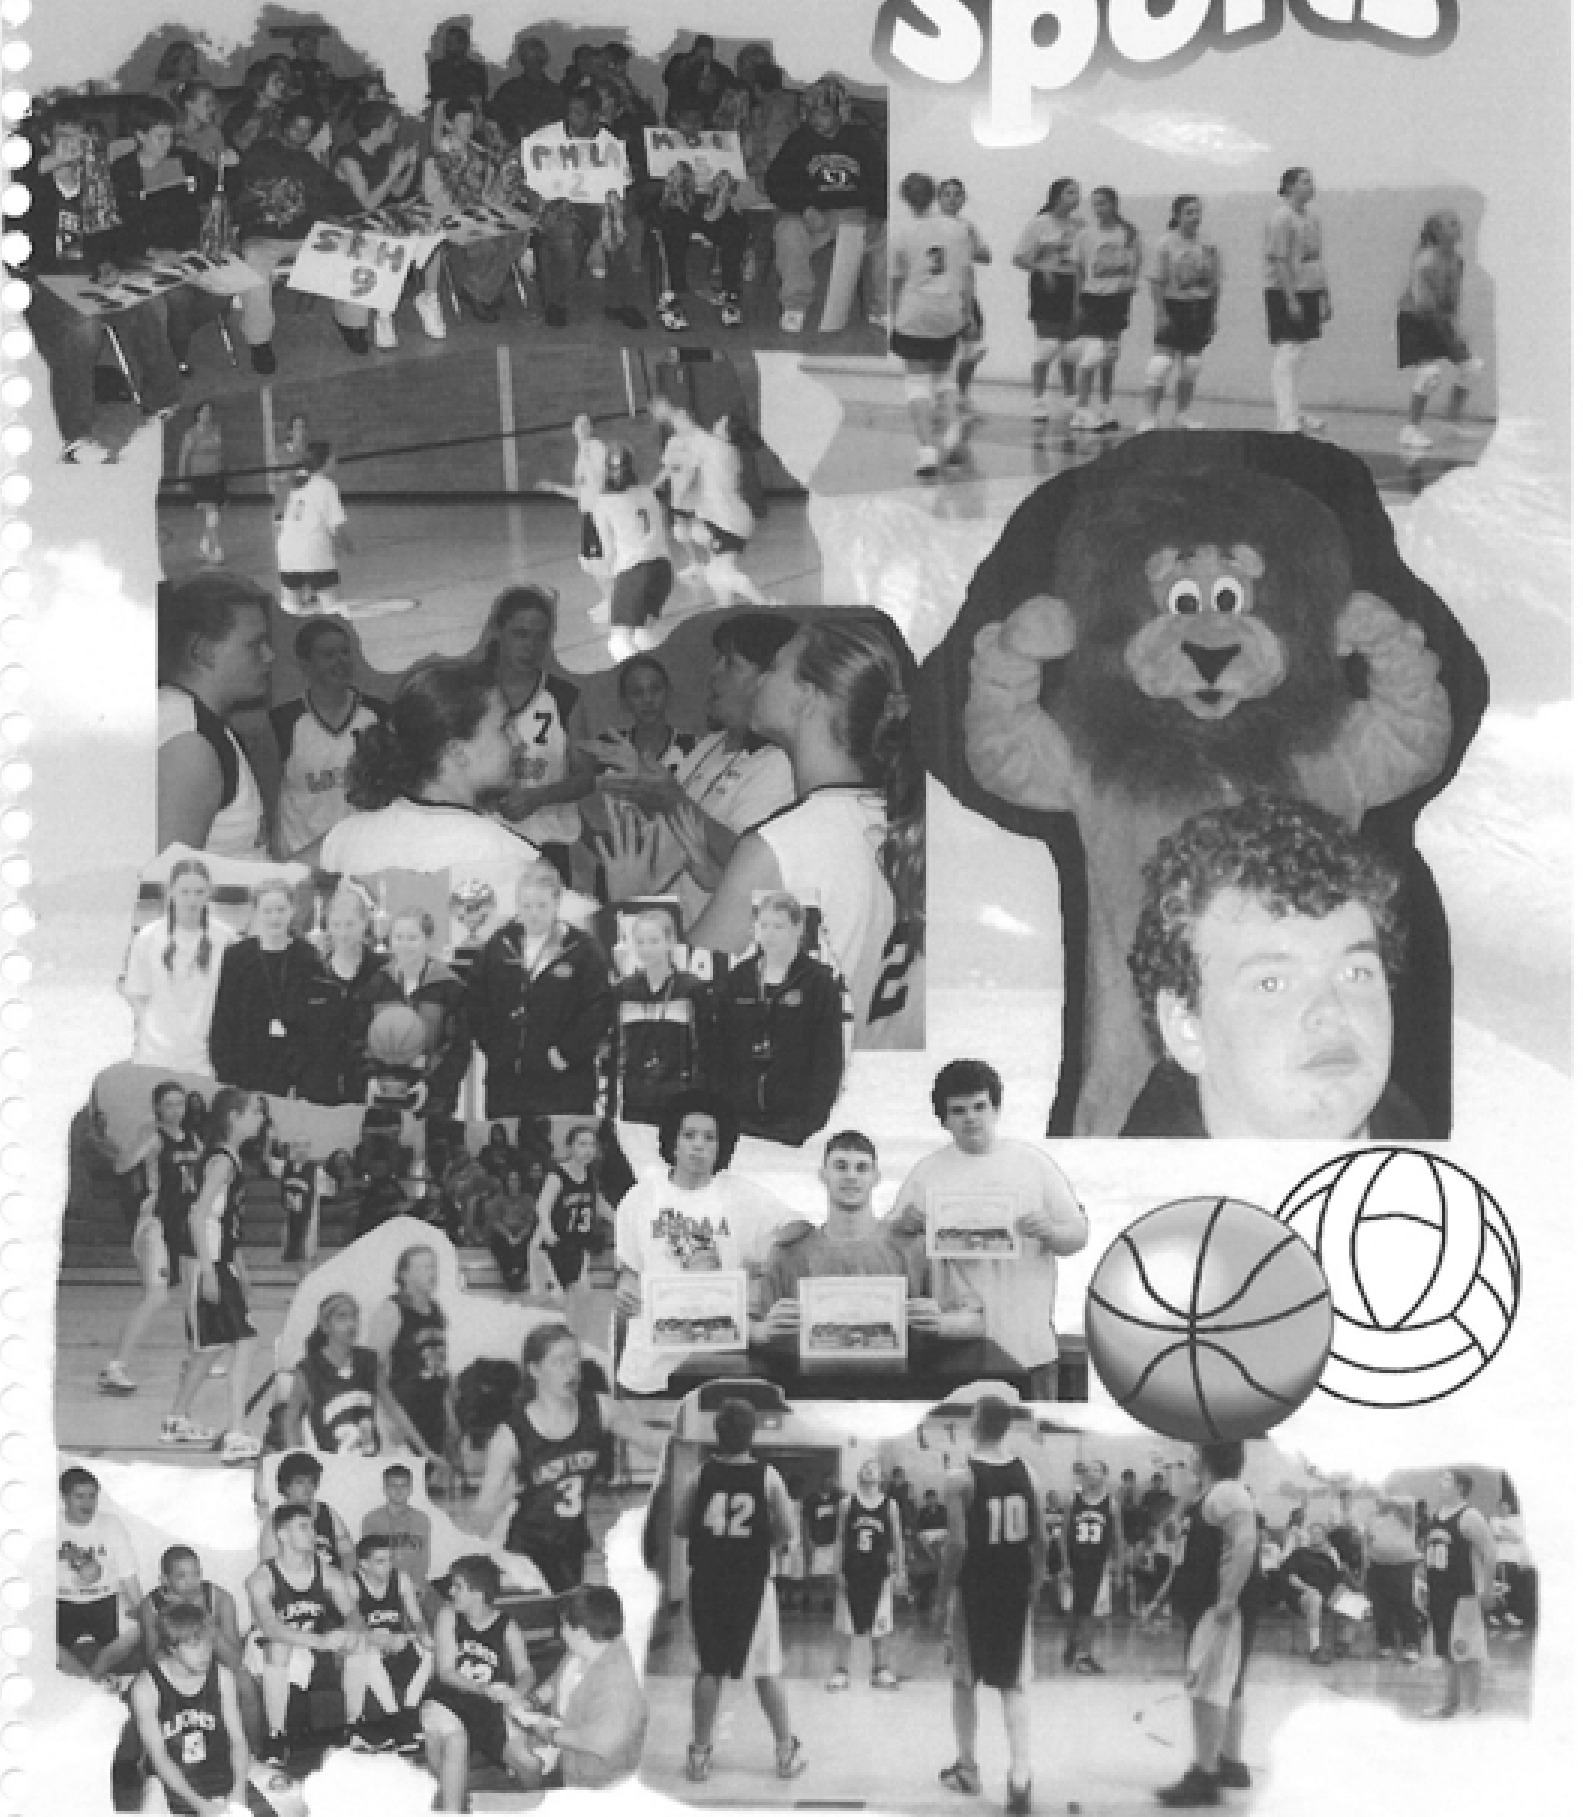

Jason wrote:

At the beginning before the show started, there were clowns doing tricks. One clown in particular, "Grandma", did all sorts of funny stuff. She came on between acts and ended the performance; she was quite entertaining. The Circus provided several sign language interpreters, which helped WVSD students very much. There were Trapeze Artists, dogs that could do amazing tricks, a horse that could dance, and more clowns were in the show, too. They did funny things like throw stuff all over each other. And there were boys and girls my age - - doing flips and stacking on top of each other. It was very cool!

If I get the opportunity to go again, I DEFINITELY will!!!!"

Archery

*I*n September 2005 WVSD became the first deaf school in the United States to be selected to participate in the National Archery in Schools program. The West Virginia Department of Natural Resources (WVDNR) and the national Wild Turkey Federation funded this program jointly.

On September 7 and 8 Mr. Scott Warner, WVDNR, and Mr. Dave McClung, co-instructor, came to our school to teach safety and the basics to ten students. Other PE students took archery classes taught by Mr. Bob Haines, PE Instructor and Athletic Director.

Seaton Hall Gets VRS

A Sorenson VRS was installed in the lobby at Seaton Hall in October. Some students use the VRS to talk to their parents. Others use the relay service to communicate with their families.

SKI TRIP!

Students took two day trips to Timberline Resort in Canaan Valley this year. First time skiers were required to take lessons before hitting the slopes. A huge thank you to the Lions Club of West Virginia for once again providing this wonderful opportunity for our students!

Academic Bowl-06

Gallaudet University and Virginia School for Blind (VSDB) hosted 15 teams and their families on VSDB's campus for the 10th Annual Academic Bowl Competition. This year, for the first time, we opened up the Mid-Atlantic Region to other regions that had waiting lists, so we had a maximum of 16 teams participating (one team dropped out).

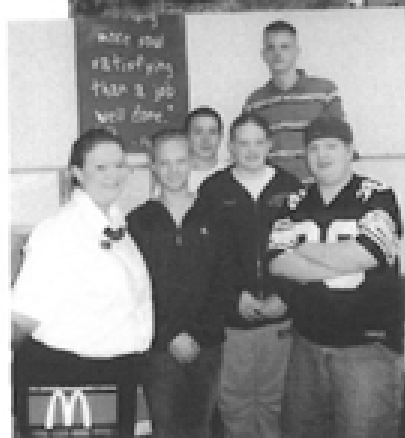

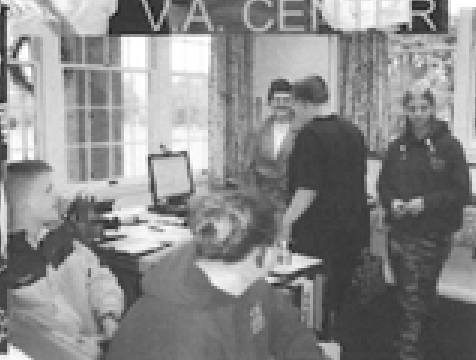

Members of the Academic Bowl team were: Juniors Paige Kidd and Justin Rhodes, and Freshmen Tiffany Friend, Jason Holliday, and Mike Jarvis. Mr. Marty Blakely was the Academic Bowl coordinator/coach, and Mrs. Mary Beth Surber also served as coach for the team.

What Happened This Year?

Hurricanes

Top three most disasterous hurricanes in 2005: (Katrina, Rita, and Dennis)

Hurricanes in 2005: 27

Hurricane Katrina was the eleventh named storm, fifth hurricane, third major hurricane, and second Category 5 hurricane of the 2005 Atlantic hurricane season. It was the third most powerful storm of the season, and the sixth-strongest Atlantic hurricane ever recorded.

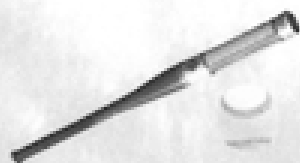

The storm surge from Katrina caused catastrophic damage along the coastlines of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama. The large extent of the storm system resulted in devastation many miles from the hurricane's center; Katrina was possibly the largest hurricane of its strength to approach the United States in recorded history. Levees separating Lake Pontchartrain from New Orleans were breached by the water.

Iraq War

United States deaths: 2,319

Iraq civilian deaths: 33,710 - 37,832
