

Harold F. Griffey came from Indiana to Kenova, West Virginia as Superintendent of Schools in that place. From Kenova he came to Romney in 1920, as Superintendent of the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and the Blind. It was during his administration that the School for the Blind was moved to its present location on campus. He served as Superintendent for three years leaving in 1923.